Our practice is committed to educating our patients about healthcare issues that affect them. As a result, we are providing you with general information about the Privacy Rule, a federal regulation of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) along with a brief overview of our Notice of Privacy. Our practice does comply with HIPAA regulations.

What is HIPAA and how does the Privacy Rule affect you? The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) gave the federal government the ability to mandate how healthcare plans, providers, and clearinghouses store and send a patient's personal information as it relates to healthcare. The Privacy Rule was created to protect your rights as a patient of our practice and we are required by law to comply with this regulation. Under the Privacy Rule, you are guaranteed access to your medical record, allowed control over how your protected health information is used and disclosed and allowed to take action if your privacy is compromised by following the practice's policy. Our practice is dedicated to maintaining the privacy of your personal information.

What is Individually Identifiable Health Information? Any health information you provide to our practice, including your mailing address. Information that is created and retained by our practice or received from another healthcare provider that relates to your treatment, healthcare operations, payment and/or that identifies you as an individual.

What is the Notice of Privacy Practice? Our official Notice of Privacy Practice is posted in our reception area and informs our patients about their rights surrounding the protection of their Individually Identifiable Health Information and our obligations concerning the use and disclosure of such information. This notice applies to all records created, obtained or retained by our practice. We may update our Notice of Privacy Practices at any time.
